New forum for off topic discussions?

Would it be possible to have a "misc" forum here? As we make friends here and find we have other things in common, a place for us to chat that won't derail the purpose of the other forums. Not political debate or any of that junk, I just mean a place where we can talk about nice things as we make friends here and find we have other things in common besides knives 🙂

Imagine all the people living life in peace

Long time Lennon fan, and yes I was hearing Imagine (imagining Imagine?) in my head when I posted that. And of course,Instant Karma, in another thread.

Some forums I haunt have a separate area for politics and religion posting. Seems like a burden on the mods otherwise. If you are in a politics and religion forum, you know that you have entered a potential war zone with snipers etc very possible. Strong emotions follow these topics.

Just my 2 cents
