Frequently used threads STICKY

Hi Clay,

Would it be possible to have some sort of "sticky" (whatever this software allows) that would be a list of links to some of the great work that has been done here... to make it easier for people to find?

I ask this because I have posted links to quite a few resources repeatedly, because lots of members apparently have never seen them. I realize that no one really has the time to go through every post on the boards, so consolidating these things in one place would be helpful. When I enter the forum I am directed to "Recent Topics" from there none of the really great stuff from the past is visible after a few weeks.

For example, I have posted links to the Unified grit chart, your wonderful progression photos and stropping photos, Tom's progression blog posts and some of the great work that Ken has done, many times. Each time that I do, lots of folks react as though they have no previous information on them. I understand this because to even link them I have to spend quite a bit of time with your search engine and/or Google to find the links (that is IF I can remember the proper key words before I give up). Now this is just a sample based on a quick recall job, I am sure that there are lots more that I use many, many times and that would be valuable for everyone, if easily accessed.

I would be happy to work with you on this if you need me!

What do you think?

Phil

Is there a thread or a FAQ about how to use the forums?

IE9 is playing up for me lately.

_____

"IE 9 is playing up for me"

??? Not sure what that means...

In any case I haven't seem a forum instructions section. I actually looked pretty close when I first came here. Everything I know how to do was learned by trial and error... many errors.

Still asking for suggestions.

Thanks CBW..

I copied the link out of a previous post, It looks like the same link, but it did not hyperlink it for some reason.

Thanks for posting it again.

I figure out why, just copying the link from a previous post only copies the visible part... removing the HTTP://. Lesson learned
