Wicked Edge Hard Carrying Case - Think Pelican

Posted by wickededge - 21 Feb 2013 15:35

We're close to finalizing the design of a new, Pelican-style, carrying case for the sharpener. It's designed to fit the Pro-Pack II with a few extra accessories. The Pro-Pack I and the Basic Kit will also fit. We're trying to make a decision about whether to go with the option of wheels and a telescopic handle. Between all the components of the Pro-Pack II and the case itself, weight should be around 30 lbs. I'm curious what people think about this option. It will add a decent chunk to the cost to include the wheels and handles. Is this a feature that you guys think you'd want? I'm also trying to gauge interest in such a case overall. How many would want such a case?

If we're still in "brainstorming" mode... I have a case that has a piece that covers the top foam, so that items could be placed up there, then the cover snaps into place over it. Could free up a bit more room.

Can you elaborate and/or send pictures?

I like the look of the case and it woud be great for storage. No wheels for me but others might want or need them.

Any ideas on pricing yet?

That case looks great! I made my own out of Ash where the WE is mounted on the top, open the lid and all the stones, accessories etc are in their own slot. The idea of a case like this is very appealing providing it's not cost prohibitive.

Cheers,

Rick

Hey, Rick

Can you show us some pics of what you made? Would love to see it as a custom build.

Thanks,

We got our first shipment of the new cases in yesterday and we'll be adding them to the site today or tomorrow but they're already available for sale by phone. Here are some specifications:

Clay,

Is there a pic pf the interior of the case? Just would like to see how it is set up?

Thank you!

Looks like you did a bit of a redesign.

Very nice. 🙂
